Free Electric Vehicle Charging in Garages

Electric vehicle (EV) charging stations will open in April for public use in all downtown parking garages.

The EV stations, the first public charging stations in the city, are located near the entrances of each garage and can be identified by bright green painted sections and signs. There will be seven in total: three in Prince St. and one each in Penn Square, E. King St., Duke St. and Water St.

All can be used for free. To use, customers must first download the Chargepoint app on the App Store or on Google Play and find the Lancaster EV location. A credit card must be used to register on the app, but it won't be charged for EV charging at LPA garages.

EV charging will take different lengths of time, depending on the vehicle make and model. When the charger is finished, you will be notified via the app so you can move your vehicle so others can use the service.

ParkLancaster App

Download our parking app today! Pay for parking on the go, store your license plate, set up alerts, and add time to your meter. Search "Park Lancaster" in the apple or google app store.

Larry Cohen, LPA executive director, met with employees recently to discuss customer service and training on harassment issues.

Report Your Parking Enforcement Concerns

Call the Lancaster Parking Authority, 717-299-0907; leave a message outside weekday hours, 7:30 a.m.-5 p.m.

Messages are monitored by LPA staff, 24/7/365.

For emergency parking concerns (blocked fire hydrant or driveway or inappropriate use of a handicapped parking space) call Lancaster City Police, 717- 664-1180.
